FluidLogic Market Entry Wedge Options

Wedge Strategy

The winning entry wedge should transfer race-proven credibility into an athlete environment where hydration timing and performance under pressure are critical, but the audience is not being served by generic wellness hydration brands.

Ranked Options

High-heat endurance athletes

- Example: triathlon, long-course runners, cyclists, ultra athletes
- Proof transfer: hydration delivery under sustained exertion and heat
- Buyer: athlete, coach, sponsor, performance staff

Team-sport and performance training segments

- Example: football, soccer, tennis, combat sports, training blocks
- Proof transfer: hydration timing under repeated high-intensity sessions
- Buyer: team performance staff, trainer, medical/performance director

Motor-sport adjacent high-load athletes

- Example: mountain biking, motocross, off-road endurance, tactical operators
- Proof transfer: direct sports-science alignment with motorsports environments
- Buyer: athlete, manager, coach, sponsor

Heat-exposed tactical and field athletes

- Example: field operators, tactical training, physically demanding environments
- Proof transfer: high-heat delivery and decision support under load
- Buyer: team lead, performance staff

Recommendation

Start with the athlete segment where FluidLogic's proof is most obviously transferable and where a small team can test with clear commercial signals.
