i9 Sports AgencyOS Value Review: Execution Status

Classification

Scope: operational improvement and workflow review for a successful youth sports company.

Risk level: medium.

Known use case: manual operations across parent communication, scheduling, staffing, and seasonal coordination.

Human decision owner: operator / business owner.

Needed output: value hypothesis, operational use cases, and pilot recommendations.

Status summary

Deliverable area	Status	Notes
---	---	---
Project packet scaffold	Complete	Structure and project files are in place.
Research review	Complete	Website-based business review is complete.
Value hypothesis	Complete	AgencyOS appears useful as an operating layer, not as a software-first replacement.
Agency use cases	Complete	Registration, scheduling, staff coordination, and retention logic are mapped.
Recommendation memo	Complete	The project is a reasonable candidate if the client wants to reduce manual burden.

Recommendation

This is a credible AgencyOS opportunity for a successful but manually run youth sports operation. The best fit is not a rewrite of the business model, but a structured operating system that reduces administrative burden and increases consistency.
